

EASTER ACTIVITY IDEAS

Over the Easter holidays we are not sending out individual class work. But instead, we have put together a pack of Easter activities for you to have a go at if you so wish.

Have a look at the activities and see which you fancy.

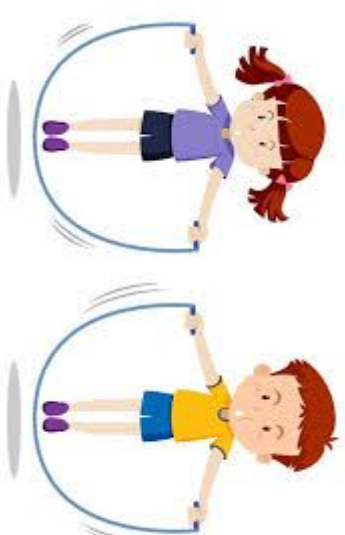

We would love to see pictures of your activities.

Use your SeeSaw home learning code to upload these onto Seesaw.

Use the big green arrow on Seesaw to do this and upload a picture - Caption the picture to tell us what you have been up to!

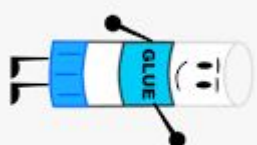

Most of all we want you to have fun learning!

Have a very Happy Easter!

Getting crafty
 Pinterest has lots of craft ideas-especially for Easter-but here are a few of our favourites to try!

Science - Investigations

Have a look at this website to complete some simple science investigations which will wow you and the people at home!

<http://www.sciencefun.org/kidszone/experiments/storm-in-a-glass/> and <https://sciencebob.com/category/experiments/>

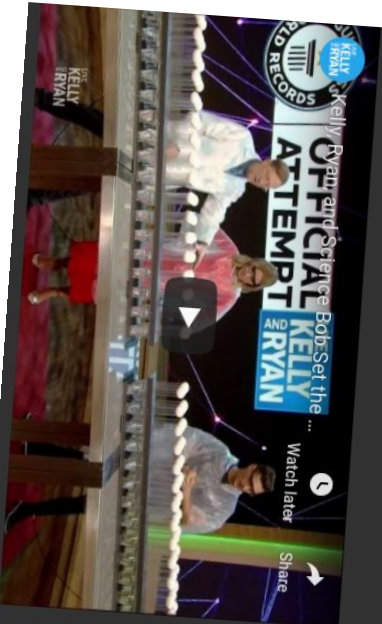

Storm in a Glass

Materials

- ★ Shaving cream
- ★ A large glass
- ★ water
- ★ Food coloring
- ★ A spoon

THE EGG DROP CHALLENGE!

Milk Art

Materials

- ★ A bowl
- ★ ½ cup of milk
- ★ Dish soap
- ★ Cotton swab
- ★ Food Coloring, more than one color
- ★ Pepper (optional)

BUILD A FIZZ INFLATOR

Easter PE activities

The body coach - daily workouts

PE with Joe - click the link to go to his youtube channel

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=K6r99N3kXME>

Every day at 9am, Joe Wicks (The body coach) is going to be doing a You-tube workout for 25 minutes.

Joe Wicks is still doing his workouts over the holidays.

Tune in each day to keep him company!

An Easter Marathon

Our challenge to you and your family is this:

Can you walk, run or jog a marathon over the days of the holidays?

We have seen lots of you outside passing school doing your daily exercise.

Why not record how many miles you do over the holidays and see if between you and your family you can do 26.2 miles in total.

The staff at school will take on the challenge too, to see if they can complete a marathon as well!

Bird watching

Outside at the moment there are lots of different birds. Use the RSPB guide to see how many different birds you can spot out in the garden or when you are exercising. Listen to their different songs too, they are pretty cool!

Black-headed gull

Woodpigeon

Carrion crow

Hooded crow

Collared dove

Feral pigeon

Starling

House sparrow

Robin

Blackbird

Greenfinch

Chaffinch

Great tit

Song thrush

Pied wagtail

Wren

Coal tit

Blue tit

Dunnock

Long-tailed tit

Magpie

Jackdaw

Plants and flowers

Whilst you are out doing your exercise over Easter, how many of these different flowers can you spot?

Bluebell

Hyacinthoides non-scripta

Dedicated to St George, around half the world's bluebells grow in the UK making it a particularly apt national treasure.

Where to find it:
Woodland

Bugle

Ajuga reptans

Since its flowers aren't trumpet-like, Bugle is likely a corruption of its scientific name, Ajuga. Bumblebees love it.

Where to find it:
Damp, shaded places

Cowslip

Primula veris

Often grows near cowpats, or where the cow's "slumped". Food plant for the rare Duke of Burgundy butterfly caterpillar.

Where to find it:
Grassy places

Cuckooflower

Cardamine pratensis

Also known as Lady's Smock. It tends to bloom at the same time the cuckoo starts to call, hence its common name.

Where to find it:
Wet meadows

Early Purple Orchid

Orchis mascula

One of the earliest of our native orchids. It has a scent not unlike Lily-of-the-Valley that gets stronger at night.

Where to find it:
Meadows & copices

Greater Stitchwort

Stellaria holostea

A sign of an ancient hedgerow. One of its local names is "pop-guns" as its seeds fire off noisily when ripe.

Where to find it:
Hedgerows

Lords & Ladies

Arum maculatum

Pollinated by the cowpat-dwelling Owl Midge, it emits dung-like smell & heat to attract it.

Where to find it:
Woods, hanks & walls

Germander Speedwell

Veronica chamaedrys

Our most common native speedwell. Look for the two white stamens sprouting from the pale "eye" in the centre.

Where to find it:
Wasteland & gardens

Wild Garlic

Allium ursinum

Also known as Ramsons. If you encounter an oniony aroma in the woods, chances are this wildflower's nearby.

Where to find it:
Woodland

Wood Sorrel

Oxalis acetosella

Once used in cooking for its lemony taste - but don't eat too much raw as it can upset the stomach!

Where to find it:
Woodland

Easter baking

We have loved to see your baking pictures over the last few weeks. Here are some ideas of things you might like to create. But we also can't wait to see your other creations!

BBC Good Food has great ideas, here is the link: <https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/feature/easter>

Easy Easter nests

<https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/recipes/shredded-wheat-nests>

Lemony Easter chicks

<https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/recipes/lemony-easter-chicks>

Easter brownie bites

<https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/recipes/easter-brownie-bites>

Challenge 1: Every day can you make your bed? Also can you change your sheets?

Challenge 3: Can you help in the garden, cutting the grass or planting?

Challenge 4: Can you make a refreshing drink for your family? (Maybe a cup of tea)

Helping at home challenge
How many of these challenges can you complete at home to help out?

Challenge 2: Can you wash up after one meal a day? Don't forget to put the pots away too!

Challenge 6: Can you help Hoover, sweep or dust the house?

Challenge 5: Can you help an adult to make an evening meal?