SEN information report

1.1 The kinds of SEN that are provided for

Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum disorder, speech and language difficulties

Cognition and learning, for example, dyslexia

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)

Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties

Moderate learning difficulties

1.2 Identifying pupils with SEN and assessing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline

Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress

Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers

Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEN.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

Throughout the school we monitor and track the progress of all children by an ongoing process of planning, teaching and assessment. Children with SEND may be identified at any stage of this process during their school life. A range of assessments are used:

- The EYFS Baseline Assessment
- Termly assessments of progress (literacy and numeracy)
- Reading, Writing and Mathematics assessments
- Review of SEN Support Plan targets

When appropriate the SENCO will ask for help and advice from specialists outside school. This is in addition to the extra support the child is already receiving within school. These specialists may include the Educational Psychology, the Speech and Language Service, SAPTs or Behaviour Support Team etc... With their help additional strategies will form the basis of future SEN Support Plans.

When new children, including those with SEND, transfer to Leconfield Primary School we contact the child's previous school to ensure all records and appropriate information are received. Also, we will assess the child's literacy and numeracy skills.

1.3 Consulting and involving pupils and parents

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. This may be with the class teacher in the first instance.

These conversations will make sure that:

Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty

We take into account the parents' concerns

Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child

Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record and given to their parents. This written record may take the form of a Class Action Plan.

We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEN support.

We review SEN support plans at least termly. Parents are invited to attend a meeting where their views are shared and the child's progress is reviewed. When necessary we contact parents more frequently to discuss their Child or Young Person's progress.

Parents/Carers are welcome to arrange additional meetings by appointment.

We encourage Parents to be actively involved with the school to help their children overcome barriers, difficulties and celebrate strengths

We have established a Parent Carer Forum \(known as the Coffee and Cake afternoon\) where parents are actively encouraged to share their views regarding the support we offer. During the Coffee and Cake afternoon we also share information about local support and agencies with Parents and Carers. Representatives from SENDIAS and Endorphins have also attended during the past year.

We also share information with Parents and Carers through the school Newsletter.

We also encourage children to share their views through our Children's Opinion Polls. Our children are also invited to the Coffee and Cake afternoon and are encouraged to share their experiences and learning with their Parents and Carers.

Pupils are also encouraged to share their views about their own SEN Support Plans and progress. These are recorded on the plan. Pupils share their views through a transition booklet at the end of each year.

1.4 Assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

The class or subject teacher will work with the SENCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil

Termly reading and maths assessments

At least termly reviews and ongoing reviews of SEN Support Plans

Their previous progress and attainment or behaviour

Other teachers' assessments, where relevant

The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data

The views and experience of parents

The pupil's own views

Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions, and their impact on the pupil's progress.

1.5 Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the pupil is moving to.

We understand that good quality transition between phases and schools is essential. Parents and Carers are welcome to meet with the SENCo to discuss transition arrangements.

When children join Leconfield School we contact their previous school to gather information so that we can meet every child's needs as quickly as possible. When children leave Leconfield School we contact the receiving school to share information and paperwork.

Also, we offer additional transition support for children when they change classes, Key Stages and schools. This may include additional visits, planned transition groups and contacting agencies.

1.6 Our approach to teaching pupils with SEN

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High-quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEN. This will be differentiated for individual pupils.

Leconfield School we strive to offer support for Children and Young People with SEND that is appropriate to the child's needs. Allocation of support is given through assessment

This may involve:

- Differentiation of the curriculum
- Differentiated groups within classes for literacy and numeracy
- Use of a range of teaching styles which recognise the individual learning styles of children in the class
- Working in a small target group with an adult
- Working one to one with an adult on focused activities
- Targeted interventions linked to specific outcomes for the Child or Young Person.
- Access to some specific resources or equipment when appropriate
- Use of activities and programmes which support personal, social and emotional development.
- ELSA (Emotional Literacy Support Assistant)
- Lexia
- Speech and Language interventions
- Use of positive behaviour modification strategies within the classroom and as part of the whole school Behaviour Policy.

1.7 Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.

Adapting our resources and staffing

Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.

Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

Our accessibility plan promotes inclusion and increases the extent to which disabled pupils or pupils with SEN needs can participate in the curriculum.

When necessary we also conduct relevant risk assessments.

1.8 Additional support for learning

We have 8 teaching assistants who are trained to deliver interventions such as: Lexia, phonics, ELSA, Speech and Language etc.
